for working Oregonians*

Corvallis, OR – In a significant boost to his campaign for Oregon Attorney General, Democrat Dan Rayfield proudly announces the endorsement of the Oregon AFL-CIO, a voice made up of more than 300,000 working Oregonians. This endorsement comes as a testament to Rayfield's longstanding commitment to the values and well-being of the working people of Oregon.

"As Oregon's Speaker of the House, a legislator, and an attorney, I have always worked for a safer, healthier, and more just future for Oregonians," said Rayfield. "Now, as a candidate for Oregon Attorney General, I am honored to receive the endorsement of the Oregon AFL-CIO, an organization that tirelessly champions the rights and interests of our state's hardworking individuals and families."

The Oregon AFL-CIO, is a statewide federation of labor unions with a mission to build power for workers through political campaigns, legislative advocacy, and more. Representing a diverse range of workers, including nurses, firefighters, educators, and construction workers, the Oregon AFL-CIO plays a pivotal role in shaping a fair and just economy for all.

"The Oregon AFL-CIO supports Speaker Rayfield's campaign to be our next Attorney General because of his consistent record of strong advocacy for Oregon's workers," said Graham Trainor, Oregon AFL-CIO President. "He's stood with us as a State Representative and as Speaker of the House. He's walked picket lines with us, and he listens to the voices of working people to inform his priorities as an elected official. The Oregon labor movement is confident that Speaker Rayfield will carry his commitment and effectiveness as a lawmaker to the office of the Attorney General and will continue to defend the rights of working people."

Rayfield, currently serving as Speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives, has garnered significant support in his bid for Attorney General, with endorsements from prominent figures such as former Governors Kate Brown, Barbara Roberts, Ted Kulongoski, and John Kitzhaber, as well as Congresswomen Andrea Salinas, and Suzanne Bonamici.
